Alma Mater

*Guarded well by elms and maples,
Shrined in every heart,
Our Beloved Alma Mater—
Earlham, fair thou art.
Alma Mater, we, thy children
Tribute bring to thee;
Hail to thee, our dear old Earlham,
Hail, all hail E. C.!*

*Voices gay of youth and maiden,
Echo 'round thy walls,
Memories tender cling like ivy.
To thy chambered halls.
Alma Mater, we, thy children
Tribute bring to thee;
Hail to thee, our dear old Earlham,
Hail, all hail E. C.!*

*Those men, our classmates who left college halls
for the service of our country
and of humanity,
We, the class of 1918,
Loyally dedicate this book.*

Class of 1918

First Semester—

President—ROBERT EVANS

Secretary—MARTHA KIRKPATRICK

Second Semester—

President—MARY JOHNSON

Secretary—SIBYL LOOFBOURROW

1918

J. DONALD CALVERT, Selma, Ohio.

B.S., Chemistry and Mathematics.

Bundy Student Council 2, 4; Y. M. C. A 1-4; Cabinet 3; Anglican Club 3, 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Press Club 2, 3, 4, Cir. Mgr. Press 3, Editor-in-Chief of Press 4; Football 2, 3, 4, Capt. 4; Pres. Student Affairs Association 4; Student Affairs Board 4; Senior Play Cast 4; Member College Gymnasium Committee 4; Business Mgr. Senior Annual 4.

"Shoot." What can't we say about Don? Speaking of efficiency or popularity he is your man. He can play football and still have time for the aesthetic, such as editing the Press and indulging his Titian taste.

GERTRUDE PARDIECK, Richmond, Indiana.

A.B., Mathematics and English.

Day Dodger Student Council 2, 3, 4, Pres. 4; Anglican 3; German Club 3, 4, Pres. 4; French Club 3, 4; Day Dodger Play 1; Sec. and Treas. D. D. 4; Honor Student.

An honor student who can't be ruffled. Even as President of the Day Dodger girls she is noted for her bright smile. We wouldn't mind being the class baby if we could make a record like this.

ADDIE L. BUTLER, New Castle, Indiana.

A.B., Psychology and Education, Domestic Science.

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Student Council 3; Phoenix 1; Varsity Hockey team 2; Pres. Women's Athletic Association 4; College Social Comm. 3; Inter-dormitory Comm. 3; Polity 4; Annual Staff 4.

"For if she will, she will, you may depend on't, And if she won't, she won't, so there's an end on't." Addie, quick-witted and mischievous, specialist in pranks, has a most refreshing way of giving her friends the benefit of a little common sense occasionally without extra charge.

ROBERT B. EVANS, Indianapolis, Indiana.

B.S., Mathematics and Physics.

Y. M. C. A. 1-4; Press Club 3, 4, Business Mgr. 4; Class Pres. 4; Chairman Hallowe'en Committee 4; Circulation Mgr. Senior Annual 4; Manager of Ackerman lecture 3.

Bob may be found almost any time in company with a Math or Physics book. If there were such a thing as perpetual motion or fourth dimension he would not sleep until he had solved it.

1918

JOHN HARAMY, Jerusalem, Palestine
A.B., Physics and Philosophy.

Y. M. C. A. 1-4, Cabinet 4; Student Volunteer 1-4; Bundy Student Council 2, 3; French Club 1-4; Pres. 1-2; Winner Extempore Contest 2; Extension Debate 2; Rep. State Oratorical 3, 4; Senior Play Comm. 4; Polity Club 2, 3, 4, Pres. 4; Honor Student.

Student, professor with the glib tongue and Frenchy manners, president of Polity Club, orator. Why John ought to have gone in for athletics for he was never known to get winded.

LOIS KELLY, Chicago, Illinois.
A.B., English and German.

Y. W. C. A. 1-4, Cabinet 3, 4, Pres. 4; Anglican Club 4; German Club 3; Madrigal Club 2, 3, 4; Chairman Class Social Comm. 2; Hallowe'en Comm. 1, 3; Senior Play Comm. 4; Annual Staff.

"Effervescing, warble-escing,
Lightly tripping too.
Dignified at intervals,
Nothing she can't do."

RUTH E. MOFFET, Knightstown, Indiana.
A.B., Biology and English.

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Anglican 3, 4; Science Club 2, 4; Spanish Club 4; Phoenix 2, 4.

Ruth is our Quaker maid, modest and demure. But we have learned to know the merry spirit betrayed by the tell-tale twinkle in her dancing brown eyes.

IRVIN T. SCHULTZ, Richmond, Indiana.
A.B., History and English.

Y. M. C. A. 1-4; Day Student Council 3; Anglican Club 2; Day Student Play Cast 4; Ionian 1; Polity Club 3, 4.

In comes Germany, "one vast substantial smile." Five dollars reward to anyone who has seen him without one. Though his head is packed with dry historical information, we can overlook that for he is the soul of jollity.

1918

HERSCHEL FOLGER, Carthage, Indiana.

A.B., Bible.

Y. M. C. A. 1-4, Pres. 4; Ionian 1, 3, 4, Pres. 4; Anglican 3, 4, Pres. 4; Glee Club 3, 4, Pres. 4; Polity 3, 4; Student Council 3; Managing Editor Senior Annual 4; Extension Debate 3; Debate Team 4; Winner Extempore Contest 3; Gospel Team 3, 4.

"What fluent nonsense trickles from his tongue." Yes, but he is a parson for all that, an all-round man of affairs, and the most optimistic fellow in seven states!

GLADYS A. FOUTS, Centerville, Indiana.

A.B., History and Latin.

Y. W. C. A. 2, 4; Day Dodger Student Council 3; Anglican 3; Classical 1-4; French 4; Student of honorable mention.

"Go to Gladys Fouts, thou sluggard, consider her ways and we wise." Would that we all had thy spotless record, Gladys, thy frank speech and thy sincerity.

ROBERT F. JACKSON, Richmond, Indiana.

A.B., English and History.

French Club 4.

Robert may not be much for sports, but we have all learned to respect the ability which has enabled him to fill two man-sized positions, in addition to providing for a wife, while going through Earlham.

RUTH KELSEY, Plainfield, Indiana.

A. B., English and Biology.

Y. W. C. A. 2, 3, 4; Student Volunteer 3, 4; Classical 2; Madrigal 4; Phoenix 2, 3, 4; Annual Staff.

Ruth thinks with the rest of the philosophers, but she is never too busy to do things for her friends except at mail time, when her daily arrives from the South. Then a busy sign appears in her countenance.

1918

RUDOLPH PRICE, Richmond, Indiana.

B.S., Chemistry and Biology.

Glee Club 1, 2; Hallowe'en Committee 2.

One of "Doc" Price's most noticeable characteristics is his remarkable talent for destructive criticism. Rudolph gives promise of developing into a faithful and reserved family physician.

MARY MENDENHALL, Winchester, Indiana.

B.S., Chemistry and Zoology.

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Cabinet 4; Student Council 4; Inter-Dormitory Comm. 4; Polity Club 2; Science Club 1-4; Phoenix 4.

Our "Only Dignified Senior". Maybe she is but she is perfectly human anyway, and we who know the workings of Mary's mind, can solemnly affirm there isn't a more unconquerable captain of High Jinks in Earlham Hall.

CLAIR REID, Richmond, Indiana.

A.B., History and Mathematics.

Director of Band 4; German Play Cast 2; Orchestra 1-4; German Club 2-4; Annual Staff 4; Honor Student 4; Scholarship.

Clair Reid is generally seen in company with Euclid (or some other scholarly star). Hence he has derived so much knowledge of certain sciences and arts that he carried off high class honors this year "so he could be by her."

MILDRED BELL, Fairmount, Indiana.

A.B., History and English.

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Polity 2, 3, 4; Anglican 2, 3; Science 2; French Club 4; Phoenix 1, 2, 4; Basketball Class team 2, 3.

This modern Atlanta with the gypsy eyes has won fame in the Order of Four Hundred Miles and proudly wears an "E" in token of the same. Her success in study and good times, however, not even her perfectly accurate pedometer can measure.

LOWELL C. JEFFERIS, New Castle, Indiana

A.B., History and Geology.

Science 1-3; French Club 4; Glee Club 2, 3, 4, Mgr. 4; Band 1-4; Orchestra 1-4; Tennis Mgr. 3, 4; Y. M. C. A. 1-4.

"His rattling nonsense in full volleys breaks"—But Jeff has music in his soul we know, for he plays a cornet in the band with an artistic zeal that would inspire "pep" in the dullest mortal on the bleachers.

RUTH SHERA, Richmond, Indiana.

A.B., German and Mathematics.

College Social Committee 1, 2, 3; Chairman Social Committee W. A. A.—4; Class basketball team 3-4; Varsity basketball 3; Tennis 3, 4; Spanish 4; Day Dodger play 1, 2, 4; Chairman Senior play committee; Hallowe'en Committee 3; Annual Staff; Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Honor Student.

We are proud of our actress and delight in basking in the light of her fame. Maybe it is because of Ruth's "stage presence" that nothing ever dampens her gaiety or ruffles her bubbling good humor.

MARTHA C. PENCE, Russiaville, Indiana.

A.B., Bible and English.

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Polity 4; Anglican 2; Spanish 4; Class team Basketball 1-4; Mgr. 4; Hockey class team; Varsity basketball 3; Chairman Class Social Committee 4.

Martha will tell you it's the editorials she reads in the "News". But editorials aren't written on the sporting page, are they? And editors don't die off after the football season. But Martha's "fine and daisy" if she does whistle when she comes in the dining-room.

EDWIN W. ELY, New Madison, Ohio.

A.B., History and French.

D. D. Play cast 1; French Play cast 1, 2, 3; Oratorical 1; Glee Club 2, 3, 4; Inter-dormitory Committee 4; Student Council 4; Extension Debates 3.

Who could ever mistake that Eley-sian grin! "Tub" is best known by his twanging uke (after 10:30 p. m.) and his voluble (consult Noah) presence in circles French.

1918

1918

THOMAS W. YOUNG CLARK, Washington, D. C.

B.S., Mathematics and Physics.

Science Club 1; Ionian 3; Polity 1-4; Prohibition Club 1; French Club 3; Y. M. C. A. 1-4, Cabinet 4; Editor Hand Book 3; Student Council President 4; Inter-Dormitory Comm. 4; Advertising Mgr. Annual.

Tom is a business man, so systematic that he keeps a card index of his neckties. His chief delight is argumentative argument, and perhaps just that ability for logical, independent thinking won him his place on the Roll of Honor.

JESSE RUTH KELLUM, Cambridge City, Indiana.

A.B., History and English.

Y. W. C. A. 1-4, Cabinet 3, 4; Anglican 3, 4, Secretary 4; French Club 3, 4; Phoenix 2, 3, 4, Pres. 4; Hockey Class Team 3; Class Secretary 2; Chairman Class Social Comm. 2; Annual Staff.

"There is a pleasure in poetic pains that only poets know." But far be it from Ruth to shun the "madding crowd". She looks on life as one grand adventure and she has a master's degree in "folks and fun".

ESTHER G. THOMAS, Amboy, Indiana.

B.S., Domestic Science and Biology.

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Student Council 2, 4; Inter-Dormitory Comm. 2; Polity Club 2; Science Club 4; Madrigal Club 3, 4; Phoenix 2, 4; Varsity Baseball 3; Class Hockey Team 1; Class Basketball Team 2.

Esther always goes around looking perfectly innocent, but she's a rogue just the same. Honest as daylight, kindhearted and dependable, she'll do the thing she says she will though the skies fall!

CARL FESMIRE, Sheridan, Indiana.

B.S., Mathematics and Physics.

Y. M. C. A. 1-4; Science Club 3, 4, Pres. 4; Ionian 3, 4; Assistant Circulation Mgr. Annual.

"Fessy" is an awful cut-up (we don't mean zoology). It is rumored that he can do the double shuffle, but how can we tell, when he always modestly persists in hiding his light under a bushel?

1918

SIBYL LOOFBOURROW, New Madison, Ohio.

A.B., German and English. Diploma in Music.

Y. W. C. A. 1-4, Cabinet 3, 4; German 3; Madrigal Club 2, 3; Orchestra 1; Class Secretary 4; College Social Comm. 2, 4, Chairman 4; Secretary Student Affairs Board 4.

Sibyl is a princess but she doesn't know it. There is rhythm in all the simple dignity of her. From her auburn hair to her finger tips she is the very expression of her music. But we're constrained to say that her thoughts are often flighty.

LENA HIVNOR, Richmond, Indiana.

A.B., Mathematics and English.

Y. W. C. A. 1, 3, 4; Day Dodger Council 3; Polity Club 4; Anglican Club 2, 3, 4; German Club 3, 4; Phoenix 1, 4; Day Dodger Play 1; First Honor Student; Bryn Mawr Scholarship.

Lena knows all about everything and has learned even the fine art of campus (by heart). We'll have to hand it to our first honor student. Joy be with her, we can't.

NORMA L. CHENOWETH, Glen Karn, Ohio.

A.B., English and German.

German Club 1, 2, 3; French Club 4; Science Club 1; Polity Club 4; Madrigal Club 3, 4; Phoenix 3, 4; Hockey Class Team 1; Y. W. C. A. 1-4.

"The world's no better if we worry,

"Life's no longer if we hurry."

Whatever Norma does, she does easily, and she has a serene way of seeking sunny paths and walking in them.

FREDA M. MORRIS, Bloomingdale, Indiana.

A.B., Biology and English.

Y. W. C. A. 1-4, Cabinet 3, 4; Student Council 3, 4, Pres. 4; Inter-Dormitory Comm. 4; Anglican 3, 4; Madrigal Club 3, 4; Phoenix 1; Class Secretary 3; Hockey Class Team 3; Manager Hockey 3.

"Modestly bold and humanly severe", but a typical merry maid of refreshing charm. Though interested in astronomy, she has majored in English with a special study of the "Blind Poet".

1918

ISABEL P. CRABB, Richmond, Indiana.

A.B., French and English.

Y. W. C. A. 3, 4; Orchestra 1, 2, 3; Basketball Class Team 4; Manager Senior Basketball Team.

We are still guessing how this happy-go-lucky person can carry twenty hours of work, manage a house, teach school, travel every vacation, in fact have time for everything "not in the curriculum," and still keep on the good side of the profs.

LOUISE M. FISCHER, Dayton, Ohio.

A.B., Domestic Science and History.

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Polity Club 4; Science Club 1; German Club 2.

"It will help me nothing to plead mine innocence." Louise's irresistible giggle we have with us always and her practical jokes have been our terror and delight. Her favorite formula of speech is a plaintive "Oh dog-gone, they always lay everything on me!"

MARY JOHNSON, Richmond, Indiana.

A.B., Philosophy and French.

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Cabinet 4; Science Club 1; French Club 2, 3; Hockey Class Team 4; College Social Committee 1; Treasurer Senior Class; President Senior Class; D. D. Play 1; French Play 2; Annual Staff.

"Prexy" Mary, democratic
How goes your class '18,
With caps and gowns of hue all sombre
In stately grandeur seen?"

Friendly, dignified, self-reliant Mary always leads in any circle, be it social or executive.

LAWRENCE C. DAVIS, Richmond, Indiana.

A.B., History and Political Science.

Y. M. C. A., 1, 2 Ionian 1, 2; Polity Club 4.

Tho' in class he is rather given to a vociferous reiteration of the obvious and tho' he writes poetry when inspired, Mr. Davis is a very practical man, for they say he is both chauffeur and ruler of a household of his own.

J. MERRITT TIPPEY, Vancouver, Washington.

A.B., English and Botany.

Y. M. C. A. 1-4; Glee Club 2, 3; Science Club 3.

This happy newly-wed has lofty aspirations we are sure, for he left us to build air-ships. We can only watch his rise in the world from safe terra firma and wish him all success.

ACHSA CARTER, Russiaville, Indiana.

B. S., Biology and Mathematics.

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Student Council 4; Chairman Proctor Committee 4; Science 3, 4; Madrigal 3, 4; Phoenix 3, 4; Secretary Phoenix 4.

"The clearest head and the sincerest heart"—Achsa, practical, unassuming, generous, has the rare gift for pulling people out of the slough of despond and setting them on solid terra firma, all without apparent effort. We have found her a loyal, fun-loving comrade.

HOWARD LEIGH, Spiceland, Indiana.

B.S., Zoology and Geology.

Polity Club 1-2; German Club 2, 3, 4; Richmond Art Club 2, 3, 4; D. D. Play Cast 3; Anglican 4; Student Council 4; Member Indiana Academy of Science 3, 4.

"I intend to make a name for myself." And we believe that he will. You may have been deceived by that gruff voice into thinking Howard is hard to approach. But once past the burr you find a fine perception that distinguishes the artist from common clay.

V. HELEN PENCE, Russiaville, Indiana.

A.B., French and English.

Polity 4; Science 2; French 3, 4; Basketball Class Team 1, 2, 3; Varsity 1, 2; Manager 3; Class Team Hockey 1; Chairman Class Social Committee 4; Class Secretary 4; Y. W. C. A. 1-4.

Fortune has smiled on Helen and shown her the roses and bon-bon side of life, but who would develop self reliance even in college when two words "Oh, Mart" always bring sisterly aid?

1918

1918

FREDDA REED, Parker, Indiana.

A.B., History and Biology.

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Anglican 3, 4; Spanish Club 4; Phoenix 2, 3, 4.

This infinitesimal scrap of humanity has a nature as sunny and serene as a May morning and has a musical laugh that makes one think of Galli Curci's Bell Song. Her genius for stunts and for doing big things easily has made her a general favorite.

MARTIN S. KUEHN, Richmond, Indiana.

A.B., English and German.

Polity 3; Vice-Pres. 3; German Club 3, 4; Pres. 3; Ionian 3; German Play Cast 3.

Martin in being unable to attend four years of college consecutively has gathered some bits of worldly wisdom. Consequently he has a special habit of discussing various points of interest whatever they may be. He does not live at Plainfield, he only visits there.

F. ELSIE McLANE, Danville, Indiana.

A.B., Latin and Domestic Science.

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Science Club 1-4; Classical Club 1-4; Phoenix 2; Varsity Hockey Team 2; Polity Club 4.

Elsie is our angel, golden hair and all, with the most unselfish nature in the world. It is rumored—well anyway, Elsie was caught once wearing her diamond on her left hand, just "by mistake," don't you know.

EXALENA MOFFETT, Knightstown, Indiana.

B.S., Biology and Domestic Science.

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Cabinet 4; Polity Club 4; Science Club 2, 3, 4; Sec'y. Science Club 3; Spanish Club 4; Phoenix 1, 2, 4; Varsity Baseball 2; Basketball Class Team 3, 4.

This ardent lover of Mother Nature has a passion for star-gazing and would rather wander among the breezes and brooklets than talk (almost). Maybe that's the reason for her sunny unspoiled nature and sympathetic spirit.

1918

MARTHA J. KIRKPATRICK, Greenfield, Indiana.

A.B., Latin and English.

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Student Council 3; Science Club 1, 2; Classical Club 1-4; French Club 3; Madrigal 3, 4; Class Secretary 4; Chairman Class Social Committee 3.

"O, my soul," here's Shorty! We have liked Martha these four years, partly because of her love of fun and partly because like all valuables, she is done up in such a small parcel, and partly because—well, we just couldn't help it!

MILDRED E. WHITE, New Lisbon, Indiana.

A.B., Latin and English.

Y. W. C. A. 1, 4; Cabinet 4; Student Council 3; Classical Club 2, 3; Madrigal 3, 4; German Club 3; Senior Social Committee; Anglican 2, 4; Phoenix 1-4, Pres. 4; Editor-in-Chief Senior Annual; Honor Student.

Eighth wonder of the world! With characteristic energy, Mildred teaches her Sunday School class or fries pancakes (not to mention the Annual). In her busiest moments she looks up to say, "Isn't this fun?—but it's nerve-racking!" (Not censored by Editor-in-chief.)

MYRON W. RANDALL, Nashport, Ohio.

A.B., English and Education.

Puzzle Picture—Find Randall.

FACULTY MEETING TODAY AT 4 P. M.
DISCUSSION OF COAL SITUATION

J. M. Edwards

President David M. Edwards

President David M. Edwards came to us this year with big hopes and plans for Earlham. We respect him for his energy and executive ability, but his genuine kindliness and his keen interest in student activities have won our sincere regard. We wish him all success at Earlham and pledge him our heartiest loyalty.

“Was there Something?”

Finley Newlin

Who among Earlhamites doesn't remember "Old Finley" with real affection? To be sure, we have joked about his deliberation, and watched the clock-hands race while he cashed a check. But he was always accurate and interested, willing and kindly. We miss him daily over the office desk and want here to express our sincere appreciation for his long and loyal service.

The Young Men's Christian Association

The Y. M. C. A. for the year '17-'18 will long be remembered for its radical changes. Many obstacles have been encountered, and no French or British ministry ever had more changes. By the close of the fiscal year, only one man on the cabinet held the place to which he had been appointed in '17, for some had been drafted, and some had gone to do reconstruction work in France. After new appointments had been made, several more men left college in answer to their country's call.

In spite of difficulties, much has been accomplished. The time of the mid-week meeting was changed from evening to the chapel period on Thursday, so that the organization now better represents the whole student body. Willard O. Trueblood of Indianapolis, held a series of meetings at the close of the football season, that proved a positive influence. Our delegates to the North Manchester Conference gave the New Northfield program a boost at Earlham by carrying through a splendid Student Bible Study Campaign, and the Earlham Sunday School was, throughout the year, a live wire on the campus.

But Earlham especially did herself proud in the Students' Friendship War Fund Campaign, when the faculty and students pledged over two thousand, one hundred dollars to the Y. M. C. A. work for the soldiers and sailors.

The Young Women's Christian Association

"What is Cabinet?" asks a small Freshman, chin up, hands behind her back, gazing at the bulletin: "Cabinet meeting at 6:45." The Cabinet is what runs the Y. W. C. A. And what is the Y. W. C. A.?

You may turn over your membership card to find its purpose. You may drop in the cozy "den" to read its books and magazines. You may come to the Earlham Hall Association Room twice a week to sing and hear inspiring talks by fellow-students or others on live topics of the day. You may catch a vision of the world and its needs, beyond your horizon, as we did this year when we worked shoulder to shoulder with the Y. M. C. A. in the great Friendship War Fund Campaign, that met with such ready response from American students everywhere. Then you will really know what the Y. W. C. A. is, because you are in it, and a part of it all. Whatever you name it, it is a companionship for the best in girls—keenest thoughts, cleanest ideals, and strongest and happiest every-day life on the campus.

Bundy Student Government

If a college community is a democracy, a student council is a combination of the executive and judicial departments of the government. It is an elective assembly serving in the capacity of supreme court and unarmed police force. Its functions range everywhere from maintaining quiet during study hours, to protecting the corpus sanctum of its constituency.

Bundy Hall Student Government was organized in 1909, co-operating with a governor in solving the problems of dormitory life. By 1914 the governor was no longer needed and dormitory control was given into the hands of the students.

Now it has passed the experimental stage in Bundy Hall. If formerly council members were pale and haggard from lack of sleep and nerve-racking midnight controversies, now it is rumored that they go to bed with the birds (except, of course, when they stay up late) and sleep with a clear conscience. Hence we are sure that student government has proved Bundy Hall to be not only "safe" for democracy, but a place where it may thrive and flourish.

Earlham Hall Student Government

Everybody knows that Earlham Hall is an ideal place for good times and high jinks of various kinds, as well as for poring over dark volumes of ancient historic lore, or groping mazily after sines and co-sines, or seeking to solve unknowns (chemical and otherwise.)

Just to keep everything in this storied old hall within the limits of the the safe and sane and wholesome, a democratic student government is maintained by the inhabitants thereof. And just to keep a watchful eye on our goings out and comings in, we have elected the above august body of "mature persons" who act as our central authority. Hard indeed, is the way of the rare transgressor who is "called up" by the candle's wavering light to answer for her various and sundry sins before this assembly.

A fine spirit of loyalty to self-government prevails in Earlham Hall, and we would not willingly change this to any other system, for it "tasteth of good" for us all.

The Press Club

Although such men as Carl Ackerman and Fred Hollowell have made their journalistic start in the Press Club, to turn out graduate journalists is not the sole purpose of the Club.

Since 1909 when a group of men banded themselves together to furnish the college community and nearby cities with Earlham news, the chief aim of the club has been to pull for a better and bigger Earlham.

The Earlham Press, the immediate work of the Club, is a weekly newspaper portraying Earlham life in all its various activities. All the members feel that the experiences gained in writing and in business methods are benefits not easily to be forgotten.

But to the feminine friends of the Press men, the annual "Press Sparker" is a very important affair. This event occurs in the spring when appetites are tired of college coffee and yearn for demi tasse and other "French foods." With the weekly Press, the Annual Sparker and the spring camp supper, the Press Club proves its interests in all sides of college life.

The Glee Club

One of the most gleeful organizations in college (as the reader might suspect) is the popular and tuneful Glee Club.

Under the direction of Dr. Coffin, the Club this year waxed mighty in song, and on drowsy afternoons bursts of melody could be heard proceeding from the lofty regions of Lindley Hall. The members all survived the semester examinations, thus eliminating the necessity of adopting the swan song as their leading number, (a not unheard-of possibility).

In the short spring vacation the Club made a concert tour through several Hoosier and Buckeye towns and every moment was seized upon and enjoyed by the migrating songsters.

Their repertoire consisted of everything from "The Star Spangled Banner" to "This is She." Whether "Invictus" made a greater impression than "My Lady Chloe," it would be hard to say, but Earlham is still on the musical map.

We have a good time!

Ionian Literary Society

"If a man die shall he live again?" And if an organization mobilizes all its efforts to retain a vigorous existence, and then sinks in oblivion on the turf, is resuscitation possible? Such a question confronted Ionian at the beginning of this year. Last year the miscellaneous courses in buzzology, together with other difficulties and misfortunes, temporarily incapacitated this heirloom of years, and the alumni wept. When college opened last fall there were almost half a dozen Ionian members left, and the two officers extant occupied the indestructible chairs of critic and vice-critic. But frost was found on the mirror and other signs of life appeared. The time of meeting was changed to Thursday evening, the famous "Miscellaneous Rule No. 13" was made to read "7:30", the constitution was tom-marshallized, the membership grew, and Ionian Literary Society resumed its production of college presidents and American statesmen.

Phoenix Band

What is there that has more traditions than the Alhambra? What is it that has more literary genius than the Salmagundi, and commands more order than the Student Council? What is more fun than knitting and more popular than French? Phoenix, the whetstone of feminine culture! For Phoenix flourishes as the green bay tree and has so many members that they cannot even be photographed in studio-esque attitudes after the manner of their literary brethren (see opposite page) but must have all outdoors for that ceremony.

Loyal Phoenixians look back on a year rich with varied interests, poetry, story, play, current events, debate and song. If the oracles predict aright, Phoenix will rise again from its ashes next fall and continue to grow in wit and wisdom.

Le Cercle Français

A la tune of "Allons enfants de la patrie", Le Cercle Français entered upon its third year with a rush that carried it over the top as regards popularity among students of French.

Miss Wittwer's studio, the "rendez-vous" of the organization, was at times a veritable court of Louis XIV, because of its distinctly romantic atmosphere. All discussions were carried on in French and for an hour every other Wednesday the club would have much excitement and fun conversing in the typical vivacious French manner on a wide range of subjects. The program committee with their repeated reconnoitering raids on our limited stores of French "vehicles of thought" convinced us that an amazing number of remarks could be made with the same words.

The loyal interest of the club in France and her people is shown by the spirited way in which we join in the ringing strains of La Marseillaise.

Classical Club

While other clubs with less scholarly and more erratic purposes have spent their time on modern questions (which soon become out-of-date you know) the Classical Club has kept the even tenor of its way in peace.

The first semester of the year the club devoted to the presentation of the Vestal Virgins' Drill, which was given at Christmas time, and much enjoyed by the College Community. The second semester was spent in the study of Greek and Roman mythology and the singing of Latin songs.

Though these scholarly individuals love to revel in the lore of the past, there seems to be no danger of their fossilizing. It takes a modern and strong-minded person to discuss such cultural subjects as the genealogy of Jupiter and at the same time knit vigorously for the Red Cross, yet this is constantly done by these remarkable people.

The Classical Club we are sure is living up to its name by increasing the appreciation and enjoyment of the literatures of different languages and periods.

President—RUSSELL TITSWORTH
Secretary—MARTHA PENCE

Spanish Club

In the very early spring of this year, along with the growth of things, La Sociedad de Español, the juvenile club of the College, was organized. Already it has proven itself far from insignificant by the number of estudiantes de español belonging to it, and by the interesting and valuable programs given. The programs vary. Sometimes Spanish songs are sung; Spanish games are played; short Spanish plays are presented; reports of real and imaginary trips are given.

The aims of this club are to create greater interest in Spanish; to learn more of the Spanish American countries; and to acquire some ability in Spanish conversation, so that when Latin Americans visit our country, they may be welcomed and appreciated.

Just as the Spanish language is making a place for itself in the United States, so the Spanish Club, under the leadership of Senora Ballard, is making a place for itself in Earlham College.

President—GERTRUDE PARDIECK

German Club

Originating in one of those ever-remembered gatherings at the Charles' country home, German Club has had an enviable history, promoting the spirit of conviviality and good fellowship among students, and at the same time diffusing a little of the German language, atmosphere and thought, before these last acquired their present unhappy associations.

The German Club has never pretended to be a formal, strictly literary organization, but has tried always to preserve the social spirit of the first gathering.

This year we have made the club thoroughly American, and answering the call of the times, have dispensed with much of the gaiety which formerly characterized it. Although we have done nothing more "pro-German" than to join with the other students of German in adopting a French orphan, like Mary of old we have chosen the better part (of German culture) and we hope that this will not be taken from us.

President—JOHN HARAMY

The Earlham International Polity Club

The international mind is the mind of today. The great problem that confronts the world is not so much peace as "Permanent Peace." This can come only when people everywhere cease to think, each in terms of his own country, but rather think in terms of the world. Working on this theory, the International Polity Club, the most popular organization at Earlham, with a membership of about sixty students, has adopted for its watchword "Preparedness,"—not military but intellectual preparedness, an unprejudiced understanding of the true relation of nations each to the other. The club meets bi-weekly. Leaders of national reputation are obtained to speak on many phases of internationalism. Especially interesting and up-to-date has been a careful study of six of the leading nations of the world—the United States, England, France, Germany, Russia and Turkey, and the part they play in the World War.

President—RUTH KELSEY

The Student Volunteer Band

This small but enthusiastic band is a live-wire in the religious life of Earlham. Their work is quiet but effective; unseen, but not unfelt. Inflamed with the desire to make their lives count, and impelled by a love that crosses oceans, they meet every morning in the week for prayer. The Sunday night round-table of missionary and religious subjects is always interesting and inspiring.

The purpose of the band is three-fold. It seeks to strengthen the spiritual life of each member; to arouse a greater interest in World Fellowship among students; and to encourage others to devote their lives to this great cause.

“Were the whole realm of nature mine,
That were an offering far too small,
Love so amazing, so divine,
Deserves my soul, my life, my all.”

Science Club

Belong to Science Club thou student, if thou wouldst enrich thy mind with the world's latest varieties of scientific knowledge. This is indeed the broadest club in College, for the subjects of discussion range from radium to the duties of the Food Administrator; from anthropology to the color of water (with illustrations); and from the habits and personal appearance of the army worm to the aurora borealis. Pay your money and take your choice.

The prospective house-keeper may learn how to make (scientifically) edible bread out of almost anything; the future farmer may learn exactly how to produce good crops, without having to do it, and the chemist learns the scientific formulae for a great many useful and prosaic substances, a knowledge which must be a great source of pleasure to him in idle moments.

Last but not least in the course of Science Club events, comes the Annual Camp Supper, when scientific laws of cooking and eating are set aside and everyone indulges in a truly joyful feast.

The Earlham Band

Breathes there a man with soul so dead that he has no faith in "music's dreadful power," let him look on the Earlham Band as it marches forth to a Big Game! The Band, of which the over-flowing Earlham spirit was the mother, has more "pep" and certainly more "tone", than anything else around the campus.

Perhaps this organization does not aspire to competition with Sousa's Band or to world-wide fame, but it has fulfilled its purpose—that of providing plenty of noise and inspiration at athletic contests. Stirring music makes our hearts beat high with thus'm when the Maroon and White trots out on the field, and the Earlham Band has given added life and color to our athletic events.

Day Student Organization

The "Day-dodgers" hardly need a write-up—they speak for themselves. They are among the foremost at Earlham in athletics, public speaking, and social activities. Each year they present a modern play, and this year they carried off the highest scholastic honors of the Senior Class.

The finest spirit of comradeship exists between the day-students and those of the dormitories. Several times this year the dormitory students have held open house for the day-students, when the old dining-room in Earlham Hall fairly overflowed with hospitality and merriment. In April the day students gave a grand skate in the Coliseum for the rest of the student body.

The day-students hold a place in the front ranks of the noisiest, liveliest, and most progressive organizations at Earlham, and form an increasingly important unit in the grand whole of our college life.

Oratory and Debate

Oratory and debate have been popular this year, although they have not been as extensive as usual. The War and the Indiana dry law eliminated the peace and prohibition contests for opposite reasons. John Haramy '18, represented Earlham in the old line contest with a splendid oration on "The Declaration of Independence for the Oppressed," but De Pauw again took first honors.

Debate called forth as much enthusiasm from the student body as football. The question for debate was, "Resolved, that all the railroads of the United States engaged in interstate traffic should be owned and operated by the government." A dual debate was held between Earlham and Wabash. Ralph Nicholson '20, Sumner Mills '19, and Kent Morse '19, put up a stiff negative debate, but lost to their opponents by a close decision. The affirmative team at home, Herschel Folger '18, John George Baker '20, and Julius Tietz '21, evened things up by taking the other Wabash team into camp. The negative team then went to Albion, but lost there in a very strong contest.

Ralph Nicholson added to his laurels when he won the local extempore contest, by his flights of oratory, on "The Aeroplane and the World War."

Football

A football coach once said that football was a college study as truly as any science. The various lectures on rules are analagous to class lectures, the work on the gridiron every evening is the laboratory period and a quiz over the week's work occurs every Saturday. Just as the benefits derived from an ordinary college study are not confined to the actual knowledge received, so the facts learned about the game of football and the physical results obtained are not all that is to be gained in football. It has often been said that men become better acquainted on the football field than anywhere else. If this is true then the collection of mere facts must not be all. There is the learning of personalities.

Therefore, although everyone desires or should desire to make a good grade on a quiz and to win the game, failure to do this does not imply absolute failure. If the statements in the foregoing paragraph are true then all has not been in vain. Earlham has not had, according to actual scores, a successful season. But counting those benefits which cannot be measured in figures, the season was not a failure. Some men have become better acquainted, both with others and themselves, they have learned some football and nearly all have learned a few fundamental rules of life including obedience and promptness.

Eigh Teen's Diary

Explanaceous Prefatory Introducton

Seven and Eigh Teen were two brothers who kept a diary for a College Year, but Eigh, being the Senior, got all the credit for it.

SEPTEMBER

Sunday, 23—The Y. M. C. A. Cabinets started the year with a camp supper that none of them will ever forget. Once more, Clear Creek saw a lot of fun and heard those hearty laughs. Besides this, a deep purpose burned in that camp fire. "It will be a good year in spite of everything!"

Saturday, 29—Did you get your hand shaken off at the Reception?

Sunday, 30—This morning I couldn't get my fixed smile, from "last night," wiped off, so I just wore it to the E. C. S. S.

OCTOBER

Saturday, 6—The campus was lit by our first bonfire, burning up Cincinnati's nothing with our 19 pieces of kindling.

Thursday, 11—Shades of Shamrock! They did it. Those Freshmen girls wore their green ties, red hair ribbons, white shoe, black stocking, black shoe, white stocking, a la Soph. orders. In chapel, when Prexy said, because he was new too, he wished he had a chance to wear a green bow with the rest of them, Esther Wood walked up and pinned one on him.

Friday, 12—Today when a Freshman was asked if he had any outside reading in any of his courses, he said, "No," that he preferred to do his in the dormitory.

Sunday, 28—Prof. Furnas came back, put his umbrella to bed, stood himself up in the corner behind the door and twirled his watch chain all night.

NOVEMBER

Friday, 2—Freshmen Party!!! Were the Sophomores drunk in their super-excitement? They did get some cider.

Monday, 5—Ralph Edwards: "Say, Hoerner, do the Freshmen have to curl the upper-classmen's moustaches?" Dick—"No! I wouldn't trust a Freshman with THAT."

Thursday and Friday, especially at night—Those darned football jerseys! Remember, girls!

Wednesday, 14—Bobby Glass was a little (?) noisy at dinner tonight! Megaphones probably helped. He got a note summoning him to Mrs. Hiss' Parlor after dinner. Felt mirthful, shaky, but put on a glibly bold face and hurried to the scene of combat, up the front stairs to the parlor. A bunch of girls in Second Hall gave generous sympathy. After a 5 or 10 minutes' wait, nervous and mentally propounding, Philip let the cat out of the bag—It was not his mother's writing.

Monday, 19—Miss Doan (objecting to study in chapel,) "You know, very well, Audrey, you can't listen with one ear and study with the other."

Thursday, 22—"It spoke of Athaliah being killed twice," said Jesse Harvey. "I couldn't tell whether it was in the same place or not." O. T. History finds great truths.

DECEMBER

Thursday, 6—Smallpox scare! All must be vaccinated.

Friday, 7—College community armed very consciously. "I can't hurry!! Keep off my arm!"

Saturday, 8—They recovered enough to go "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea." Most people did. But who put the lengthy fishing pole at the front door? For further particulars see M. White.

Monday, 10—Cold? Just 20 below. No chapel.

Sunday, 16—Susie, Ella and Louise were talking over their characteristics. Susie said, "I guess I'm Meek enough." Louise—"Well, I'm trying mighty hard to get there." This might bring up the question "Is she speedy?" (Lesson in punctuation.)

Tuesday, 18—Gladys Fouts (after searching all the shelves in the library)—"Professor Shoup, I just couldn't find that reference you gave us to read, anywhere." Professor Shoup (with that hidden smile behind his eyes)—"Miss Fouts, it's your text book."

JANUARY, 1918

Seven went home with Father Time, and it's up to me to keep up the Diary, but I hear them yell—"Rah! Rah! Eighteen!" So I can.

Tuesday, 8—Oh, the incomprehensible wisdom of a Rhetoric Prof., who assigns to the little Freshmen this task: Write a poem of not more than six lines and not less than eight.

Saturday, 12—That Saturday! Words fail! Bundy Student Council went to town to get their pictures taken and got their ears frozen.

Sunday, 13—"Red Jeff" can be trusted "e'en though with hesitation," to take a box of pop corn to Professor Hadley, when a book, "Effective Workers in Needy Fields," goes with it.

Monday, 14—Milton goes home with pro-German measles. Freda is seen lost to the world with a closely written letter. "Paradise Lost" or "Paradise Regained"?

Tuesday, 15—Clara Sellars makes remarkable discovery—a new kind of hash in Old Testament History class—Johash.

Wednesday, 16—Lois Elder came back again into our midst today. After dinner, tonight, Mildred Henley rushed up to Helen Calvert, exclaiming delightedly, "Oh, Helen, are we going to have a family gathering?"

Sunday Night, 27—Don Calvert secreted his bottle of cough medicine (?) behind the door in the Strangers' Parlor while he buzzed to town. Two unwary Freshmen got drunk on it.

FEBRUARY

All along in February—Another measles now and then.

MARCH

Friday, 1—In Phoenix on that night when the ceiling almost went through,* Mildred White—"The chair holds this to be the case." Folger—"Miss Chairman, do you hold this to be a case?" Mildred—"I hope not!"

Friday, 5—When the honor roll was announced some one said to Clair, "Would you be beaten by a mere girl?" "Oh, I don't know," he replied, "She's not so very mere."

Saturday, 16—At breakfast, during silence, Dick Hoerner, from outside the window, called in "Hello, Family!" Silence?

Tuesday, 19—Playlet given. Impromptu.

Act I—Prof. Hadley talks with Prof. Ed a moment while Dramatic Interp. class waits. Exit Prof. Hadley.

Act II—Prof. Hadley takes out his keys and locks the door, a la his custom with his own door.

Act III—Class locked in. Mal intent?

APRIL

Thursday, 11—Prof. Markle had assigned a lesson by page and paragraph, in a book which he placed in his room for the students to peruse. When it had been there for many days, he asked why they had not used it. The students cried, "Why, it's our text book!" Said he, "Oh, did I have you buy a text book? I'd forgotten that."

Wednesday, 17—Prof. Binford—"Why does a frog jump?"

Reynolds—"To get into another place."

Prof. Binford—"Is that the only reason?"

Reynolds—"Well, it sometimes wants to get out of the place it is in."

Monday, 22—Prof. Rea asked, "How long should a Greek drama be?" Zola Clark (hoping to make an impression)—"Not more than one circumference of the sun."

Wednesday, 24—I don't have space in my diary to put in all the particulars of this rare one on Addie, but this may suggest something: "4 p.m." "What shall I do with him when he does come?" "Oh, Adelaide!"

Friday, 26—Sibyl got a letter. She showed it to a few of her best friends. It was a refusal to be admitted into the Navy.

The last of April—Got my call and have to go!

*Footnote—There's a reason: Ionian.
